MATRON AND MAID.

Miss Eleanor Corbett, the daughter of William Corbett, has just died in England at the age of 19 years.

Miss Spurgeon's health has improved, and it is believed that she will soon be able to resume work on the final volume of her husband's life.

Miss Lina M. M., the theatrical star, is now in a London production, "My old principle in life is to be out, drink and, if possible, do what I like."

India Mayer, the wife of Brown Mayer, the largest purely Hebrew settlement in America, has passed her preliminary examination for the bar.

The mother of ex-Senator Ingalls of Kansas is still living at the ripe old age of 79 years. She lives in Boston and recently sent the senator's family three smaller robes which she knitted herself.

Miss Loubet, wife of the president of France, is an expert milliner and a good chess player. She has a large circle of friends, who are advised by her to cultivate themselves above "showy talents."

Miss Antoinette Stirling, the singer, makes it one of her rules never to appear before the public in evening dress. She frequently speaks as well as sings at temperance meetings, being a great advocate of total abstinence.

Mrs. Anna E. George, who was acquitted several months ago of the murder of President McKinley's brother-in-law, George P. Saxton, in Canton, O., is earning a livelihood as a model in a Chicago cloak store.

Mrs. O. O. Hall, who has bought the farm on which William Henry and Benjamin Harrison were born, paid $15,000 for the property and proposes to place in the wall of the dwelling house a tablet telling of the two presidents born under its roof.

Lady Roberts, wife of General Lord Roberts, knows something of the sorrows of war. Her only son lies in a soldier's grave at Chelsea, Natal. Her husband, who at the first actively engaged in military affairs, is 67 years old. Lord and Lady Roberts have been married 41 years.

Miss Rejane, who has just returned to Paris after an extended tour of the continent, brought back with her decorations and medals from every court that she visited except one. The king of Portugal did not decorate her, but instead gave her a handsome pair of driving gloves.

Mrs. Anne Wittmeyer of Potsdam, Pa., who died the other day, was one of the best known army nurses in the civil war. She served from 1861 to 1865. It was she that introduced the diet kitchen service in the army, and during the war she raised $200,000 for the sanitary commission.

RUSSIA AND PERSIA.

At any other time this Persian loan would arouse an English protest. The loan is skillfully chosen, and English susceptibilities are considered by excluding the custom houses on the Persian gulf. Philadelphia Press.

Russia does not yet control Persia, but it is now in a fair way to accomplish its purposes. The bear has reached one paw over Teheran, and when another favorable opportunity comes in it will stretch another paw farther south.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Great political results are often reached in these days through financial channels, and the news that Russia has secured a mortgage on Persia by means of a new loan foretells the ultimate control of that state kingdom and an open way for Russia to the Indian ocean.—Philadelphia Times.

With Persia taken into the great Mascotte system there will have been created a chain of territories reaching eastward from the North sea to the Pacific and westward to the Indian ocean, the greatest continuous expanse of land under a single control in the world.—Washington Star.

CONGRESSMAN EPPES DEAD.

House Passes Resolutions of Respect and Adjourns.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—In the house today the desk of Representative Eppes, who died last night, was hung with crepe and covered with a profusion of flowers, lilies, roses and carnations.

The chaplain in his invocation made feeling reference to his death.

Mr. Hay of Virginia then announced with an expression of profound sorrow, on the part of himself and his associates, the death of Mr. Eppes. He offered resolutions of respect and sympathy which were unanimously adopted.

A committee of 18 members was appointed by the speaker to act with a senate committee as a funeral escort. It includes the entire Virginia delegation in the house and Representatives Rhea of Kentucky, McCall of Massachusetts, DeArmond of Missouri, Jenkins of Wisconsin, J. S. Williams of Illinois, Joy of Missouri, Clayton of Alabama and Henry and Bailey of Texas.

At 12:45, as a further mark of respect to the deceased, the house adjourned.

BOY SLAYER BOUND OVER. Fifteen-Year-Old Criminal Charged With Voluntary Manslaughter.

ATLANTA, March 3.—Paul Rainwater, the 15-year-old schoolboy who killed his playmate, Frank Slappey, last week, has been bound over on the charge of voluntary manslaughter. His bond was fixed at $500, which was readily given.

The father and mother of the dead lad appeared as witnesses, as did Willie Slappey, a brother, Mrs. Marie Lewis and two negro girls, Queenie Thomas and Corneia Hood and others.

Queenie Thomas, who said she had witnessed the affair, delivered the most startling testimony of the trial. She said she saw Paul Rainwater when he stabbed Frank Slappey and saw the latter fall to the ground.

Young Slappey was stabbed a week ago and died Sunday morning. It seems that he and his brother were playing marbles in their front yard when Paul Rainwater and a companion, Berry Langford, passed along the street. The younger Slappey boy said that the other two lads appeared to make fun of him and his brother, and they stopped the game and went around in the back yard.

Pension Roll Increased.

CHATTANOOGA, March 3.—General John T. Wilder, pension agent, states that orders have been received from Washington effecting several thousand pensioners in every district in the United States. The gist of the order is that in future all pensioners will receive their pensions from the office in the district in which they live. Hereafter all pensioners who reside in the south will be paid by General Wilder. The order has increased the pension roll about $2,500. This is now paying 8,000 Mexican war pensions, several pensions of the Indian wars and one revolutionary pensioner, Mrs. Nancy James, 95 years of age.

THINK IT AN IMPOSITION.

Natives of Cuba Object to Sanitation and Disinfection.

MEMPHIS, March 3.—Dr. John F. Frick, whose home is in Memphis, has just returned from Cuba, where he has been at the direction of the surgeon general as a member of the United States marine hospital corps in charge of sanitation and disinfection at Santiago, Havana and other points.

He said: "So far as the health of Cuba is concerned, personally I found that those who took good care of themselves were not stricken with the disorders peculiar to the country, and I have not known a sick day during the year I spent on the island."

"When I first went there I could see the bad effects from ill nourishment and the want of proper food.

"Besides yellow fever, we had quite a good deal of smallpox to deal with and my first work was in the disinfection of the Spanish ship Alfonso XIII. It came into Havana harbor on April 3 and we found 48 cases aboard. They were removed to the hospital, and the other passengers were detained 14 days.

"The people of the island are becoming better humored over American occupation and particularly with reference to the work which is being done to improve health conditions. They did not like the house to house inspections of the health officers, and told us that we had forced ourselves into their country and that now they could not even enjoy the privacy of their own homes. They thought such inspections were worse than anything they had suffered under Spanish rule. Now, however, the people understand the objects and no serious objection to our work is urged.

"It is the impression among the officers that things will resume normal shape with the work which is to be done this year and it is certain that a very much larger area of the agricultural sections will be under cultivation this year than there was last.

Two Handy Pockets. The small lace handkerchief sometimes gives the owner much trouble. This annoyance can be done away with if one has in her gown a small pocket on the left side of the jacket or waist. This can be made either triangular, square or round in shape. The small bit of lace is tucked into this, and the edges peep over the top of the pocket. Another pocket does away with the rolling up of the handkerchief and putting it up the sleeve. The sleeve at the wrist has a small slit which admits the handkerchief and allows the border to fall over the gloved hand.—Louisville Courier-Journal.
